ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL PLANK MOVEMENT. ABSENCE OF TWO OF THE TERRIPLE TEN. Great Disappointment Among the Office-seekers, de.

Long before the hour of meeting of Counci last evening, an anxious crowd had assembled at the City Hall to witness the entertainment expected to come off. In general, the crowd seemed to be in ver good humor, but here and there were groups of anxious faces discussing the probabilities of a quorum and the prospects of the various candidates for the loaves and fishes. As on previous occasions, only a sufficient number were admitted to occupy the seats in the Council Chamber. The faces of those who were unable to gain an entrance were a look of indescribable chagrin. In the ante-room sat ex-Mayor Clark and Mr. J. H. Jenks.

A few minutes before eight o'clock, but two of the terrible ten had arrived-Alderme Barrow and T. J. Mackey. All the seats around the Council Chamber were occupied. and whispers passed round that there would shipper took on himself anything more than the risks which are incident to a voyage in a seaworthy ship, conducted with reasonable care and skill. be another fizzle. At eight o'clock the following additional Aldermen entered and took their seats: Aldermen E. W. M. Mackey, Greene, and E. P. Wall, L. F. Wall, Hampton and skill.

It may be well doubted, indeed, whether the policy of the law will permit the carrier to relieve himself from risk, created by his own omission of suitable provision for the voyage, or by his negligence in the management of the and Small, colored. The absence of two of the faithful-Thorne and brown-caused some consternation among the brethren, who feared a ruse by the minority. Their apprehensions were allayed, however, by the entrance of the any resuxation of the common law rule permitting common carriers to limit their responsibility by stipulation, and though this relaxation is now well established, it has never been carried by the American courts to the extent of allowing them to exonerate themselves in this way from the consequences of their Mayor at fifteen minutes past eight o'clock.

On taking the chair, the Mayor ordered the Clerk to take the names and report the number of Aldermen present. The Clerk announced eight members present tent of allowing them to exonerate themselves in this way from the consequences of their miscenduct or culpable neglect.

The true rule was stated by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the York Company vs. the Central Rasiroad. It is in substatuce the: "The responsibility intended by the common law can only be restricted and qualified by express atipulation for the restriction or qualification. But when such stipulation is made, and it does not cover losses from negligence or misconduct, it must be Alderman Barrow rose and offered the followng resolution : Resolved, That Council do now adjourn to estipulation is made, and it does not cover losses from negligence or misconduct, it must be recognized and enforced." The only question in the present case, therefore, is whether or not there was misconduct or negligence on the part of the officers of the steamer. This is a question of fact, and I have carefully consider-Alderman E. W. M. Mackey. I move that we do now adjourn until Tuesday evening next. The question was then put and carried. Council then adjourned, to the no small con question of fact, and I have carefully considered it.

It is not necessary to enter apon any minute review of the testimony. It is enough to say that the horses were shipped on the 26th of December. Stalls were constructed for them between decks at the expense of the shipper. After the horses had been placed in the stalls, and after the regular time of starting, the steamer continued to take in cargo till about dark. This cargo seems to have been stored between decks, and my mind cannot resist the impression that it was carelessly stowed. Certainly it became loose, and portions of it, including some kegs of nails, tumbled against the stalls. A heavy piece of timber was also left loose between decks. The stalls were broken; one of the horses was killed; another so injured that he died as soon as he was landed, and the third also suffered serious injury. It is a fair conclusion from the evidence that these injuries were occasioned by the loose stock of timber and the loose cargo. I cannot doubt that the exercise of proper precaution in stowage would have prevented these injuries. Nor can I doubt that the omission to exercise proper procaution must be imputed as culpable negligence to the officers of the fusion of the expectant and hungry crowds who have been anxious to serve the city under the new administration. The report that Howard, one of the colored Aldermen, was one of the ten was incorrect.

We are authorized to say that he has no sympathy with the sims of the majority, and does not concur in their views. THE RAILBOAD QUESTION.—The Augusta Constitutionalist of yesterday says: "From the most reliable information and assuran gathered Pesterday, we feel warranted in stating that the existing differences between the City Council of Augusta and the South Carolina Railroad are in prospect of speedy and favorable adjustment. We are not advised as to the precise basis upon which the settlement is likely to be effected, but the present indications are that they will transpire within the present week, as we understand that Presi dent Magrath, of the latter corporation, was expected to arrive here last night, to respond to propositions which had been made to him in the matter. Unless a settlement is effected, the injunction granted by Judge Gibson will go into operation to-morrow, restraining the cars of this read from passing through the city under a penalty of $300,000."
